14th Annual Research Symposium, University of Kelaniya, Sri Lanka, November 28 & 29, 2013

Guidelines for Submission of Papers

Presenting at the 14th Annual Research Symposium, University of Kelaniya:

- I. The abstract of your paper must be accepted for a paper presentation at the 14th Annual Research Symposium, University of Kelaniya.
- II. You must register, and present the paper in person to be considered an eligible author contributing to this publication.

Submitting manuscripts:

Authors

Please ensure your names are supplied with the first name followed by the surname or family name. Include author designation and institution. Please ensure that the author names and details are supplied on a separate page preceding the actual paper, as a cover page.

Title and abstract

Please give your article a brief, clear, and informative title.

The paper should include a brief abstract of no more than 200 words immediately below the title of the paper. Include at least 05 keywords at the end of the abstract.

1. Save your manuscript and cover page as Microsoft Word files.
2. Submit your paper electronically, as two documents (attachments) to fgs@kln.ac.lk
  - a. The cover page
  - b. The complete manuscript/paper

Preparing manuscripts:

1. Write the manuscript following the format specified in the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (6th edition): i.e. the APA style [Times New Roman, font size 12, double spacing]
2. You may use either American or British spelling.
3. Your full paper must not exceed 12 pages, including references and appendices.
4. Remove all personal and institutional identification from the body of the manuscript. Reviewers should not be able to identify the author/s.
5. The cover page should include:
  - a. Manuscript title.
  - b. Name, institutional affiliation, mailing address, e-mail address of all authors.
  - c. One or two sentences of each author's biography.
  - d. A statement that the manuscript is original and is not under consideration or published elsewhere, signed by you and your supervisor if you are an FGS student.
6. Submit the manuscript as a separate attachment.
  - a. Check the paper and the references for accuracy.
  - b. Use APA style of referencing. See below for examples.
  - c. Write clearly and concisely, using inclusive language.
  - d. Include number and captions of all visuals, figures, tables, charts etc.

References in the text

If you make references in the text to other publications, please do so in the following way: author's surname, date, and page number in parentheses, e.g. (Perera, 2010: 35). If the reference is to a general argument or topic covered by the author, page numbers should be omitted. However, a quotation or a specific point made by an author must be supported by a page number reference. If you use the same specific reference more than once in quick succession, please use the following form on the second or subsequent occasion, e.g. (Perera ibid: 156).

If a publication has two or more authors/editors, please list all names in the References and in the first instance in the text (then use et al. thereafter); if referring to two or more publications, please list these chronologically rather than alphabetically, e.g. (Waters 1998; Seedhouse 2004).

List of references

Please give full bibliographical details of references and list them in alphabetical order of author, following the style of the examples given below:

Black, M. & Chiat, S. (2003). Noun-verb dissociations: a multi-faceted phenomenon. Journal of Neurolinguistics, 16, 231-250.
